Abstract—Sangalian Jato's traits that make her adorable, especially for the author, is analyzed extensively in this paper. At first, detailed explanation on points on the reason of her adorability will be presented extensively in accordance of the author's behavioral and philosophical analysis of Sali. The analysis will then be strengthened by additional examples and proofs. The derived conclusions show that Sali is indeed adorable and lovable.

Index Terms—Sali, Adorable, Trait, Love.

I. INTRODUCTION

During all the years she lived, Sangalian Jato (or in short, Sali) has been a woman who is loved by her family, teachers, friends, and many more. Not to mention the number of boys she ensnared, consciously and unconsciously. However, there has been no known work of analysis on the reasons of her being so adorable. Furthermore, she herself seems to have a little bit confidence problem. She often wondered and has no idea on why the author loves her. She wonders why the author loves her, because she feels that she has is not good and does not deserve the author. Therefore, one of this paper's objectives will include the description on why Sali indeed deserves the author, under the reason on her positive traits. By presenting those descriptions, it is hoped that this paper will also be able to boost Sali's confidence.

This paper provides analyzes on Sali's traits that make her being loved by everybody, especially by the author, and shows qualitative and quantitative proofs to support the analysis.

II. ANALYSIS

A. Sali is Cheerful

There is a proverb: "Smile, and the world will smile with you." Sali is indeed that type of person, literally. She is the person whose cheerful presence makes the increasing on the happiness level of everybody around her. While this seems to be exaggerating, it does not at all. Supporting examples sections in this paper will demonstrate that this is absolutely true.

B. Sali is Supportively Comforting

The fact that she is cheerful contributes to the second trait that makes everybody near her feels that she always supports them. This is comforting. This, and the fact of her being absolutely positive thinking, makes her never judge anybody's decision or opinion harshly, gives you a comfortable feeling that no matter what you do, she will always be there as a good friend. She will not bash your ideas and dreams, since she always finds the positive side on everything, bring it forward, and encourage it. She will not leave you as a friend no matter what bad things you might do.

She is one of the most supportive persons the author has ever known.

C. Sali is Smart

Smart women are always adorable, because they are dependable and, more importantly, will not be boring companions. Sali is one of them, the smartest the author has ever known, which knows the world and easy to teach about anything, making her very versatile and "useful".

D. Sali Makes You Feel Like You are Really Needed

The fact that Sali is smart actually makes her very independent and strong. She is appeared not needing anybody to survive and live to the fullest. Sometimes men do not like this type of women because men usually have an ego that makes them feel needed. Men crave needy girls because they make them feel superior and strong.

However, actually there is a hidden point in here. While it is true that independent women makes men feel intimidated and not needed, there are actually some particular things in life that women cannot do by themselves, and they needs their men to do those things. When that time comes, the men will feel that they are really needed. The intriguing idea that the independent and strong woman who usually does not need help actually needs a man's help will create a tremendous increase of self-worthiness that makes a man thinks that he is very dependable and useful. That he can even move mountains and throw the sun out of its orbit.

E. Sali Makes You Want to be Always with Her, Around Her

All those smile, comfort, intelligence, and boost of self-worthiness make her a lovable companion that everyone seeks. No man would be able to resist her charm, including the author, who has clearly smitten just few days after the first meeting with her.

III. SUPPORTING EXAMPLES

This part of the paper mainly presents several quantitative and qualitative examples and proofs that support the analysis above.

A. Sali is Cheerful

The best example of this trait is the amount of friends she has. She has a tremendous amount of friends who love her and are happy around her. This claim is proven by the fact that she could invite several circles of people that barely knows each other to an outing together. The only thing they have in common were that all knows Sali. In this increasingly individual world, it is difficult to perform such ability to group together different groups of people to do something together. Sali has proven that she has this rare ability many times. The author suggests that this was due to her cheerful nature that can bring happiness to everybody around her. Thus people does not feel uncomfortable feeling when traveling with her, even though there are unknown other people in the group.

The author has never seen any occasion turned sour when Sali is around. On the other hand, the author has seen that when Sali goes home, everybody starts being awkward and loses interest and just follow her going home.

B. Sali is Supportively Comforting

There are numerous times where the author presents Sali with bizarre ideas and dreams that he has, which will baffle most women out there, but Sali always perceives those ideas positively and supports them. Although as a normal human being, she still could not accept extremely insane ideas such as a proposal to start a dragon-breeding farm, which is perfectly normal, acceptable, and even necessary, given the author's mind, which occasionally sprouts unintelligible, bleeding, and totally absurd ideas.

C. Sali is Smart

Sali can read maps. This is a very good proof of her intelligence. While this is known to be a very difficult trait to master for females, she is very good with maps and roads. She will be able to navigate around foreign cities (and even countries) easily just using printed maps. Availability of GPS enhanced smart phones will augment her ability to a different level in which the possibility of getting lost decrease to around 1%.

In addition, she is fast in absorbing new information. Any new information that the author mentioned consciously and unconsciously is able to be absorbed and remembered quickly. She can process wide range of information, ranging from anniversary dates, memorizations of strange country and city locations such as Serbia-Montenegro or Timbuktu, explanations about genetic diseases among European royals that came from inbreeding, to Medieval Age bladder problems.

However, perhaps the most important is that she can reply and counter cleverly when the author retorts some supposedly difficult to comprehend irrational phrases and rhetoric.

D. Sali Makes You Feel Like You are Really Needed

The author has experienced this many times. There are several points that Sali could not do and needs help from others, such as: installing cables, computer stuffs, the detailed parts of general knowledge, and so forth. When this occasion comes, the author will gladly help and, as stated during the analysis, the idea that being needed by a smart and independent woman makes a man feels like he is the most dependable man in the world.

E. Sali Makes You Want to be Always with Her, Around Her

The first proof of this theory is that she always goes out with somebody. She seldom rests at home. She always gets some invitation to go out with friends, and when she has no incoming invitation, she will invite her friends and they will gladly go to hang out with her. She is always surrounded by good friends who love her company.

Second proof is that the author, overwhelmingly exposed to her great personality and traits, always wishes to be with her. The author loves spending time with her. The author loves everything about her; he craves her presence. When she is absent, the author suddenly falls into a state of deeply missing an important person. The author longs to be with her again; he hopes that this can be achieved in the near future.

IV. CONCLUSIONS

This paper concluded that Sali is indeed adorable and missed so much by everybody, especially the author. Her traits are a perfect combination to embody a female human being. She should be happy that she is what she is; she should not be worried that people dislike her. More importantly, she should have a confidence that because of these traits, it is very obvious that the author loves her so much, and should not be clueless again on why the author loves her so. She has the foremost right to deserve the author. Furthermore, it is actually the author who should feel lucky that she loves her too; and he does. He feels lucky to have her on his side and is very happy at the moment. Therefore, on this cheerful birthday event of her let this study be a moral and confidence boost for her.
